

TOWN & COUNTRY ACQUIRES POSPISIL REAL ESTATE

January 22, 2016

Town & Country Real Estate is expanding again, this time acquiring Pospisil Real Estate and welcoming Marge Harvey and her associates.

Pospisil Real Estate opened its doors in 1961 by Ed Pospisil. In 1995, Harvey purchased the business after having worked there for a number of years alongside Pospisil himself. Marge has been running the firm ever since, but upon meeting Judi Desiderio, she felt it was time to consider selling.

“I felt it was a perfect fit—Town & Country has the same business ethics and is deeply rooted in the hamlets they have offices in—just the way Pospisil has been,” Harvey said, adding that she had been approached many times before to sell but never felt it was the right fit until now.

“It is a match made in heaven,” Desiderio said.

Town & Country also recently welcomed Cosmo Ficara, the former owner/broker of Westhampton Beach Real Estate.
