

House from '80s film 'Rocket Gibraltar' on market for $6M

Jennifer Gould | July 26, 2018

Once used as a backdrop in the 1988 film “Rocket Gibraltar,” with Burt Lancaster, Patricia Clarkson and Macaulay Culkin, this shingled East End home is on the market for $5.9 million.

The highlight of the spread at 32 Beach Lane in Westhampton Beach is its own three-story windmill tower.

A roomy 7,057 square feet, the beach manse — redesigned and reconstructed by Hamptons Habitat — features six bedrooms on 1.93 landscaped acres.

An upstairs master suite has a private balcony. Standout touches include seaweed wallpaper in the kitchen and dining room. There’s also a finished basement with a game room and screening area.

Outside, there’s a pool and an outdoor entertainment area with an open-air cabana, and a covered space with a fireplace, along with covered porches.

The listing broker is Patrick Galway, of Town & Country.