

Joy Behar buys new home in Sag Harbor

Lisa Chamoff | December 20, 2016

The four-bedroom traditional house had been listed for $4.695 million. Photo Credit: Veronique Louis

After selling a property in East Hampton, Joy Behar has purchased a new home in Sag Harbor. The co-host of ABC's "The View" closed on a four-bedroom, 3 1/2-bathroom traditional home for $4.75 million in August, according to recently released public records.

The 0.65-acre property, which had been listed for $4.695 million with Pamela Walsh of Town & Country Real Estate, has a separate cottage and a gunite pool.

Behar sold her 4,000-square-foot East Hampton home earlier this year. It had been listed for $3.8 million, with the price later cut to $3.45 million. She had purchased the home for $2.875 million in 2012, according to property records.