The Westhampton home that served as the setting for the 1988 film, Rocket Gibraltar, has landed on the market for $5.9 million, reports the New York Post.

Rocket Gibraltar tells the story of a retired screenwriter who brings his family together on Long Island for his birthday as his health begins to fail. Stars in the film include Burt Lancaster, Macaulay Culkin, and Kevin Spacey.

Located at 32 Beach Lane in Westhampton Beach, this film-featured home has over 7,000 square feet of living space on nearly 2 acres of land—so there's plenty of room for family reunions at this East End retreat.

In addition to the renovated six-bedroom, eight-bath home, the property also boasts a three-story windmill, covered porches, an open-air cabana, and a covered outdoor fireplace near the gunite pool.

Interiors include a master suite with a private balcony, hardwood floors throughout, a chef's kitchen with a breakfast room, and a finished lower level with a home theater.

Built in 1900, the home last sold in 2007 for $4.86 million. It is represented by Town & Country Real Estate agent, Patrick Galway.
