A 16,000-square-foot estate on Shelter Island is on the market for $18 million, Northforker reported. The estate, known as “Bumblebee Manor,” includes a nine-bedroom mansion and a two-story guest house, according to the outlet. Amenities include a dock that can be used by a seaplane or a yacht, an infinity-edge pool, a garage and a tennis court. Town & Country Real Estate’s Nicholas Planamento has the listing.
