Peconic Land Trust recently beat out superstar couple Jay-Z and Beyoncé to preserve another key property on Georgica Pond, near Revlon Chairman of the Board Ron Perelman's "The Creeks." Ana Meir and her husband Daniel Creighton sold 2.7 acres of prime waterfront land on Georgica Pond at 18 Jones Creek Lane, East Hampton, to the Peconic Land Trust, according to a press release from Town + Country Real Estate. It was originally listed for $11,750,000 in September 2021 with Town + Country Real Estate's Linda Batiancela, who explained, "There were multiple offers being considered before the Peconic Land Trust contacted me in early November to discuss. The owners decided to pass on other higher offers and make a deal with the Peconic Land Trust for $8.5 million for preservation purposes." Batiancela exclusively listed and sold the property, which comes complete with approximately 300-feet of prime Hamptons waterfront and is located adjacent to the Fulling Mill Preserve and just under a mile to the ocean. Aside from Jay-Z and Beyoncé, neighbors include Steven Spielberg and famous attorney Lenny Ackerman.
